Notice for Academic Staff of Wachemo University

We are extremely happy informing you that WCU is launching Multi-disciplinary Journal for Scholarly article Publications. Accordingly, we planned to recruit academicians and researchers for peer review process. We, therefore, cordially invite you to submit your academic profile based on the Job description and Requirements to Publication and Dissemination Directorate

Job Description:

Peer reviewers are internet-based, part time volunteers who have good command in English language. Their main tasks are to read and then recommend whether a manuscript should be accepted as is, accepted with revision, or outright rejected. To that end, peer reviewers will be asked to provide detailed, constructive comments that are substantiated by references where possible and that will help the editors in their publication decisions and with their author interactions. Reviewers must also be on alert for any issues relating to author misconduct, such as plagiarism, and report these to the editor.

This is a voluntary job. While we do not offer salaries to volunteers, your name will be listed in the printed journal and on the journal's webpage. WCU will issue certificate for you participation as reviewer in our journal.

Requirements:

- Possess a doctoral degree in a discipline related closely to the submitted article
- Hold a teaching or research position at a university or academic institution
- Proficient in academic and professional English
- Have a strong interest and expertise in the scholarly journal
- The applicants should be at least an assistant professor at an accredited academic institution
- The applicants are supposed to have good experiences in his/ her specific research field
- You will get application form Publication and Dissemination Directorate
- At least one recommendation letter from respective Department
